

BRITAIN BUSHES NEW ARMS GIBRALTAR

By KINGSLEY SMITH
International News Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The urgent decision of the British government to rush to establish new fortifications at Gibraltar to meet the threat of German and Italian guns set up on the Spanish coast, and the British were strengthening the defenses of Gibraltar with the installation of new, fortified positions, King George VI. announced today. Although the new nature of British fortifications at Gibraltar is not disclosed, it was indicated that the new armaments being installed include guns designed literally to blow off the map fortifications established on the Spanish coast.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS
New anti-aircraft guns designed to protect the "Rock" also were being installed.

Great Britain has moved quickly to meet the challenge to the supremacy of its military position at the "Rock" and the defense of the Straits of Gibraltar. For over 200 years, Britain has maintained an important position at Gibraltar and in recent years there was a growing tension between Britain and Spain that the Spanish government would need to be fortified in any way that might threaten British position at the "Rock."

France's action in permitting the establishment of fortifications along the Spanish mainland coast from Algeria to Tunis and on the Spanish-Moroccan coast regarded by the British as a flagrant violation of that understanding.

"DEEPLY" SAYS FRANCO
France quarters insist that any fortifications which may exist are not aimed offensively at Gibraltar, but merely for defensive purposes and would not be used against the British.

Information concerning the fortifications obtained by the British intelligence service has led to the British Admiralty's decision to strengthen the defenses of the "Rock" to meet the danger.

MAYOR, HULTMAN WAR OVER POLLUTED WATER

While denying Boston's drinking water was polluted, but denying it was anything serious, state and city officials today were at odds over the source of the trouble. Chairman Eugene C. Hultman of the Metropolitan District Commission placed the source as the Boston water pipe, in certain sections of the city.

CHOLERA ADDED
Hultman admitted the chance of pollution at the unimproved carrier ditch in Southbury, through which the water passes on its way from the reservoir to the city.

2 ARMIES NEAR BIG BATTLE IN CHINA

Shanking, Aug. 6 (AP)—American were reported today to be fleeing across the Yellow River to safety in the south, as the threat of armed conflict between Chinese and Japanese troops spread to the central Chinese city of Hankow, capital of Hupien province. Hankow is the southern terminus of the strategic railroads from Peking, along which the main body of the Japanese army is advancing from the north. The city has been the principal concentration point for Chinese armies being rushed by troop trains from the south and west to halt the Japanese advance.

Diet Told U. S. Frowns On Fliers Aiding China
Tokyo, Aug. 6 (AP)—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota assured the Japanese parliament today that the United States government "is carefully guarding against" reported attempts to enlist American aviators for the Chinese cause.

Previously the Tokyo government had been reported ready to call Washington's attention to Los Angeles dispatches quoting Russell L. Hays as declaring that American pilots were ready to go to China to fly Chinese war planes. Hirota declared the United States government would be alert to stop such action.

LABOR AUDS HURLEY HITS MANSFIELD

By JOHN W. ENGLISH
Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

Lowell, Aug. 6.—Governor Hurley was lauded and Mayor Mansfield of Boston was severely criticized today at the Massachusetts Federation of Labor convention here.

Praise for the Governor came in a resolution "recognizing" Hurley's plan for a five-day week for state employees.

"Arthur Murray of the Boston Typographical Union, speaking on this resolve, thereupon took Mansfield to task for not supporting similar action for municipal employees."

"Mansfield has been labor's biggest disappointment," the speaker asserted.

Strong support of the Governor, earlier, had forced the resolution committee to kill a proposed criticism of Hurley for vetoing the Teachers' Oath repeal bill.

The proposed resolve was finally passed in the form of approval of representatives and senators who voted for general expression of opposition to the oath law next year.

BOY'S FALL TO DEATH

Boy on Dare Dies in 93-Foot Fall at Canton

From this high tension power line tower, in Canton, 15-year-old Thomas Guerin of Pleasant street, Canton, plunged to his death, after a climb attempted on a "dare."

He's shown in inset. Arrow indicates the spot where the boy lost his hold, falling 93 feet to the ground.

Boy on Dare Dies in 93-Foot Fall at Canton

A chum's dare to climb to the peak of a 50-foot powerline tower in Canton cost 15-year-old Thomas Guerin his life today.

Just as he reached his goal, the boy, whose home is in Pleasant street, Canton, lost his grip.

Down from the dizzy height he plummeted. His body hit one of the 110,000-volt high tension wires and tore it loose from the tower mooring.

That broke the boy's fall, but the terrific charge in the wire burned his body severely.

Four hours doctors at Newton Hospital fought valiantly to save the young victim, but he died at 5:25 a. m. today as his broken-hearted father and mother stood by his bedside.

Dr. H. M. Fields of the hospital staff said that young Guerin had suffered a dislocated left hip, fractured left ankle, multiple cuts of the face, hands and body in addition to the severe burns.

The tragic plunge to the death took place in a thickly wooded section near the Canton-Stoughton line where Guerin and his chum had been playing.

The chum himself "tearfully" sobbed the story of the fall into a telephone to an operator. She called police and notified the Edison Company.

Patrolman Joseph P. Cunningham and Thomas J. Bourque fought their way through the woods and brush, over broke and ponds, for more than an hour, before they found the unconscious and broken body of young Guerin.

Geranium Like U. S.—In Red

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Did you get a head of that geranium defeat last week? Well, it's as good as coming out of the red as a geranium.

July was to be the first month in which the budget was to balance as neatly as a college midget.

Instead, we went another $200,000,000, and is deeper than a bunion in a riding boot.

The banks are full, business is good, the net farm income enormous and everything is being done against the grain. But there ain't a thing in the government budget but except crumbs.

And a fellow with gold teeth is afraid to open his mouth. They're liable to bury his smile under Fort Knox.

Tax Plan to Doom Dodging Device

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Members of a congressional committee on the personal income tax that the Senate and House accept their recommendations, a "death sentence" was pronounced on the dodging device.

They submitted their report yesterday, giving specific suggestions on how to close loopholes in the tax laws.

The recommendations would disallow virtually every tax reduction now granted the "incorporated partnerships" and would boost surtaxes on their undistributed income to as much as 65 and 75 per cent.

Union Asks Poll Of Chrysler Plants

Detroit, Aug. 6 (AP)—The United Automobile Workers' Union, engaged in a dispute with the Chrysler Corp. which has kept the Plymouth plant closed since Wednesday, demanded today it had asked the National Labor Relations board to conduct an election in all Chrysler plants.

An estimated 20,000 automobile workers virtually every tax reduction now granted the "incorporated partnerships" and would boost surtaxes on their undistributed income to as much as 65 and 75 per cent.

EXTRA SESSION PLAN SPIKE BY FARM ACCORD

Washington, Aug. 6 (UPI)—President Roosevelt inferred at his press conference today that the special session of Congress for adjustment of farm legislation, which yesterday seemed inevitable for the fall, may yet be avoided.

Congressional leaders, meanwhile, agreed to assure Roosevelt farm legislation would be given first place when Congress reconvenes next January. These assurances have not yet reached the President, he said, but it appeared they would go forward to the White House shortly.

When these assurances reach Roosevelt, leaders were confident he would approve commodity loans to "peg" the price of cotton and other major farm products.

Earlier, Roosevelt had indicated that unless farm legislation was enacted at the present or a special session, or pledges were given him that it would be the first order of business upon reconvening of Congress next year, he would not approve such loans.

From the House came word that President Roosevelt intends to give the next Congress little to do except enactment of farm legislation. The decision of leaders to give a public pledge to President Roosevelt for crop control legislation was a direct result of the House "cotton block" by Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, Democratic leader of the House.

He said that Senator Harley of Kentucky, Democratic leader of the Senate, Senator Smith (D.) of South Carolina, chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, Senator Marvin Jones (D.) of Texas, chairman of the House committee, and himself would give the pledges.

Senate Gives Hike Control of Housing

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Senate voted today a warm debate today to put administration of the Wagner housing law under the secretary's Interior Department.

The chamber adopted, Aug. 5, an amendment giving the department "general supervision" over the housing program. Issues had asked for the provision.

StAGAN BELIEVED.

In the House, meanwhile, Chairman Jones (D.) of Texas, of the House agriculture committee told House supporters of a new sugar bill that he would "be wiser" to accept administration views on the legislation.

He made this statement after offering an amendment to create from the bill a provision restricting refined sugar imports from Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Sugar blue leaders sought to dominate the floor, override a veto with which President Roosevelt would have returned the measure to Congress.

MATTER OF PRINCIPLE.

Jones said that President Roosevelt, and the State, Interior and Agriculture departments "insist upon elimination of this restriction as a matter of principle."

Pointing out the proposed legislation would be in effect only until 1941, Jones said the amount of refined sugar imported from Hawaii and Puerto Rico would be little different whether the restrictions were deleted or left in the bill.

He predicted the islands could refine their full raw sugar quotas during this period because of lack of facilities.

Crater Legally 'Dead' Tonight

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—A study figure of Supreme Court Justice Joseph P. McKenna, missing for seven years, died today in the "cold world" of the ice-land.

If alive, the brilliant but seemingly virtually every tax reduction now granted the "incorporated partnerships" and would boost surtaxes on their undistributed income to as much as 65 and 75 per cent.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN
Toni was silent. Gave in gracefully. She slipped the lush, sweet Alexander and looked about the restaurant with interested eyes. Here was her old world of fashion and gaiety. She would not have been a real girl had she not reacted pleasantly to her surroundings.

"Look, Miss Goddard, please, at the lady who is now entering; the one who wears the beautiful silver-fox cape." Niklas' voice was low but emphatic.

Take a good look at her, for I assure you that she is a regular patron of our club. Her name is Miss Harriet Brewster, and where she goes, the rich crowd follows.

Toni followed his gaze to the balcony. A man was with Miss Brewster, sitting her in her chair, helping her slip back her ermine cape, making himself so that his face was now visible to the crowd.

"YOU ARE CLEVER"
They made their way through the spacious lounge where people sipped pre-lunch cocktails, and up the wide shallow steps to the Oval Room.

Already the fashionable rendezvous was almost filled. The head waiter led them to a small table toward the rear.

"Good!" thought Niklas. "My find must remain unnoticed until I have prepared her and the public!"

He picked up a menu. They ordered. Toni selecting the table-d'ôte meal because she was frankly hungry.

"A cocktail, Miss Goddard?" "I don't think so, thanks."

At which he was pleased. He neither drank nor smoked. But today he wished his companion to have a cocktail, so as to observe its effect upon her.

OLD WORLD GAIETY
On a girl who did not drink, one cocktail might lower the tongue and the ermine. He thought shrewdly that it was imperative to note her reactions.

He hated giggly silly women. Women who could not read their liquor. As an employee in his club, Toni would be useless, even that day, if she came under that category.

"An Alexander for the lady," he said briefly to the sommelier who had approached their table. The symbolic key dangling on his chest.

She gasped. She had seen that face before, in a shaft of light, that handsome, magnetic face, those eyes that had drawn and held her.

Chic Fur Brevities of 1938

NOT A LITTLE regal is the sleek black Russian pony coat (extreme right) dramatic, flattering stole of grey Persian winds upward to frame the face.

SQUARE cornered as a shoe box . . . chic lines of the season (upper center sketch) in black Persian. Short and snappy as a Noel Coward retort.

PHOTOGRAPHED (immediately below) is a chubby swagger of handsomely shaded grey Persian. Box swaggar, new saddle shoulders, and no collar to speak of.

LOWER PHOTOGRAPH shows the super-smoothie of the bulky, brief coats. It's glossy, mahogany-toned skunk, with big sleeves

OPOSSUM short swaggar (below) is in the high style division

by ANNIE BRINK

BRIEF and squarish and unexaggerated . . . with these major campaign planks foremost . . . the fur fashionists have devised some of the loveliest coats ever seen.

Everything's trim as the Ranger's lines . . . with much of the famous box's chic shabbiness.

Although there is no collar fallow, in broad lines pattern is there any medium cape taken in at the shoulders. Either a coat is fitted superbly as the minimalist cape took town, or it is squares off into the bulk without heaviness that is foregone in importance.

Even turtles for foxes have taken to minus shoulders. Among the finest of the Hotel Statler exhibit, where the white skin market was held this week, the next above with particular distinction on tan aquiline, long-fur fox cape emphasizing shoulders. One was foot-strengthened under fox, the other beautifully handled ermine fox.

Another startling effect was faced black skink, fallow starting from a center point at the waistline in the back, and fanning out, in a supple, shining black ermine coat.

NEW COOK Book for 'Teen Age GIRLS

FROM MARTHA LEE'S FRIDAY MORNING BROADCAST OVER STATION WMAE

YESTERDAY a new cook book appeared on the market.

That statement in itself is not news; however, it is news to learn of a cook book written in such an unusually simple and detailed form.

The "Merry Mike Cook Book" written by Helen Raperston, is unique in that any American girl of twelve or thirteen years of age can read these recipes and cook a meal for the family.

The book is arranged alphabetically by subjects so that there is no need to stop and wonder what subject comes next. It is a veritable handbook of essential information.

The $2.50 spent for a copy of the Merry Mike Cook Book for the young lady just beginning to take an interest in the kitchen will prove a wise investment. We offer excerpts from this new book that are timely and indicative of the material given.

BREAKFAST BACON

To publish, the most common method, arrange the slices in a cold pan in a heavy one is better so that they do not overlap. Cook over moderate heat, turning each slice as the sides curl. Fry a platter lined with absorbent paper ready, and as each slice appears done, drain it from the fat in the pan and place on paper to drain off surplus fat. Blot in a heated platter and serve. If serving a large amount, it may be necessary to use a broiler rack during the cooking. To broil, broil the slices on a broiler rack and cook under a medium heat. Turn the slices turning each slice as the edges crisp. Not as much care need be taken in draining the bacon when cooked by this method, as when the fat drains off in the cooking.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES

4 quart jars, sterilized, in water.
1 quart onions, sliced.
1 cup salt.
1/2 lb. brown sugar.
1/2 cup vinegar.
1 tablespoon broken stick cinnamon.
1/2 tablespoon whole mustard seed.
1/2 tablespoon white allspice.
1 teaspoon celery seed.
1 teaspoon cayenne pepper.

Wash cucumbers, slice about the width of a slice. Cut in slices from one-fourth to one-half inch in thickness. Peel onions and slice. Put in separate vessels, with a sprinkling of salt between the layers. Let stand overnight. The next morning remove salt, wash and squeeze dry. Prepare like bread and butter.

Drain cucumbers, and onions from salt and rinse in several changes of water.

Prepare sugar, measure sugar in preserving jar and add a quart. The space inside in a bag, put into water. Heat sugar in boiling, but fire must be kept low. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Stir in vinegar from clear water, add in sugar and heat them just to boiling, but do not boil. Turn into jars and seal.

Child's Heart Is Subject To Murmur

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.

During the summer months many mothers will take their children to the doctor for complete physical examinations. At least, I hope they do. This is the time of the year when the child should be given a complete physical examination.

Disordered teeth, enlarged and infected tonsils, impaired hearing, faulty vision and other physical defects should be attended to during the summer months. He should be taught to "shape" his teeth to the shape of the teeth in the fall.

It is estimated that from eight to ten per cent of all children have murmurs at some time or other. In fact, the heart is the most common source of physical defects. BRIEF and squarish and unexaggerated . . . with these major campaign planks foremost . . . the fur fashionists have devised some of the loveliest coats ever seen.

Everything's trim as the Ranger's lines . . . with much of the famous box's chic shabbiness.

Although there is no collar fallow, in broad lines pattern is there any medium cape taken in at the shoulders. Either a coat is fitted superbly as the minimalist cape took town, or it is squares off into the bulk without heaviness that is foregone in importance.

Even turtles for foxes have taken to minus shoulders. Among the finest of the Hotel Statler exhibit, where the white skin market was held this week, the next above with particular distinction on tan aquiline, long-fur fox cape emphasizing shoulders. Your Figure, Madame!

NEED PATIENCE IN REDUCING

By IDA JEAN KAIN

IT TAKES patience and persistence to bring weight down to normal, for the average slimming program goes by fits and starts.

Just as you begin losing according to schedule, the scales will behave as if you were trying to gain! Then, without your doing a thing different, you will suddenly begin to lose again.

A bulky period usually occurs after a six weeks' weight loss. If you started with the summer reducers, you will know exactly what I mean! You were losing right along and had cut your weight down by, say, 10 pounds, when you suddenly stopped losing. You kept your caprice within the limit set, so you read regrettably, and nothing happened. But you can't! There is one thing the excess pounds can't resist long, and that is a strict calorie count. Keep the calorie allowance down to two-thirds long-term requirements, and you are bound to lose eventually. In the meantime, you may be encouraged by checking your measurements. Often a change in measurements takes place even though on weight loss is apparent. It is better to know that measurements can, and do improve over a two-weeks period, while weight loss may be at a standstill for six weeks. If you have exercised consistently, your waist and hips may be slimmer than you realize.

One fine morning you may find a sudden drop of the scales. The phenomenon is to be explained by the fact that you have been losing all the time, but the replacement of fat in the tissues by water prevented any change in weight. Water-replacement is the reducer's constant bugbear, and may box you up at any time during the reducing program.

You can always fall back on the Fruit Regime. If you do not have it, the "Calorie Chart" in sending for these leaflets, please enclose a large self-addressed envelope along with your request to Miss Ida Jean Kain, in care of this paper.

Substitute for College

TOUGH luck, thinks Nan. Barred from social contacts, and the job she wants, because she can't afford college.

She was chatting amiably with Dan about the weather when along came Laura. Nan was completely forgotten as the conversation raged from the subject of cloud formations to the stars and recent fascinating discoveries about the heavens.

Drawing on all their knowledge of natural science, they're absorbed in speculating the fate of the earth in ages to come. Of course, Dan finds Laura more attractive than a girl, but he is not so sure she is well informed.

Improved STOCK Profits Cited

By MERTLE STANLEY RUKESER
Copyright, 1931, by The Boston American

New York, Aug. 6.—B. F. Puckett, president of the Allied Stores Corporation, with a chain of two score department stores flung from coast to coast, told me that the potentials for improved profits in retailing this autumn are good.

Mr. Puckett believes that the first nine months of 1931 have been the best since the long-term slump in the retail trade. According to his estimate and desirable to retailing, the retail trade is not (as the full effects of the commodity price fall have been felt in the department store chain) as depressed as it was in the early part of the year.

Healing the chain's former-known as the Hahn Retail Store, which was one of the largest of the chain, Mr. Puckett, formerly executive of Lippman's in Brooklyn, told me that the chain bank holiday in 1931, since that time has succeeded in developing a co-ordinating policy for the group of stores, and the improvement has been reflected in the profit statement.

Mr. Puckett said that since the chain consists of stores of varying types, the central management concentrated on items, other than clothing, which were common to all stores, finding that the most profitable carried in the central management was the "ready-to-wear" department.

In spite of rising operating costs reflecting the increase in the cost of the raw materials, Mr. Puckett believes that the percentage of operating costs to sales will be lower during the autumn. He thinks that the country is in a better position than it was in the early part of the year, and that the volume of business is increasing.

Mr. Puckett revealed that national magazines, radio and television had built up a new business, and that the volume of business is increasing.

Mr. Puckett declared that the volume of business is increasing, and that the volume of business is increasing.

MINING ISSUES MOVE UP

New York, Aug. 6.—A downcast stock market today put what was a buying period in the afternoon behind mining and specialty issues. Motors did fairly well but utilities and rails slipped. Steels were mixed. Volume was small from the start and trends continued mixed.

The metal group generally declined its inspiration from another 2 1/2 mark-up in export copper, a 1/2 mark-up in silver, and a 1/2 advance in the price of gold.

Hardly generally failed to get off to a good start. The metal group was uneven. While futures declined, copper futures were up in the early part of the day, but a new high was not reached.

Girl's Togs Tell Her Secrets Designer Gives Tips to Love-Lorn Youths

Hollywood, Aug. 5 (AP)—Judge a woman, not by the company she keeps, but by the clothes she wears, Miss Anderson, screen dress designer, counseled today.

"If you want to know what kind of wife your girl will be, look over her clothes," Anderson advised.

Anderson said she has sound background for appraising a woman by what she wears. It is his job to suit his customers to the type of woman a film star portrays. Women's actions and speech are a poor basis for an estimate of her worth, she said.

"Remember, she's trying to impress you and is on her guard, but what she wears is a dead giveaway of her character and habits and to an accurate forecast of what your life will be with her after the honeymoon is over."

Here are some of Anderson's observations:

Women who are addicted to loose, dangling ear rings, tell a great deal.

Girls who always wear high heels are inclined to be coquette.

Girls who like to wear big picture hats are always seeking a background for their beauty—they want you to be part of that background.

Women who choose "dirt" hats, lack discretion and are easily deluded.

And so on. What to do?

"The best way to find out," Anderson said, "is the young lady who makes her own clothes, yet looks as if she'd emerged from a make-up shop."

U. S., SOVIETS IN $40,000,000 TRADE PACT

Washington, Aug. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt proclaimed today a new commercial agreement with Soviet Russia by which that country agrees to purchase at least $40,000,000 in American products during the next year.

This is an increase of $10,000,000 over the amount of goods the Soviet government obligated itself to buy in this country by a similar agreement which expired on July 12.

In return, the United States granted unconditional most favored nation commercial treatment to Russia for the first time.

This treaty, it will be noted, is not a tariff agreement, but of all other commercial pacts, it is the most important to this country.

The State department said the new compact became effective on August 6 with an exchange of notes at Moscow between Ambassador Joseph P. Davies and Maxim Litvinov, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs.

PACT NOT RECIPROCAL

It decided the reciprocity as evidence of the strength of the American position in regard to trade with the United States. It is assumed the Russian side of the pact will be a similar one, with the purchase of the American goods.

Anderson said:

"I have the feeling that the Russians are about to get a new lease on life. They are now in a position to trade with the United States as much as 50 per cent on certain products of foreign countries which do not discriminate against America."

The special accord with Soviet Russia, which is a reciprocal agreement, is a new step in the history of trade relations between the two nations.

THIS IS LIFE

By Robert E. Rogers

I'm a little "doberbome" in the words of Uncle Remus, what of the news of the day is most important, most amusing, most suitable for being embalmed in deathless prose like a fly in amber, as Speaker Thomas Brackett Reed once phrased it.

Takes Nightly Squint At New Fuzzy Comet

The late Bert Leston Taylor's most famous verse had to do with the fact that the contemplation of Canopus, the star that is so far away that it "has no parallax to speak of," conduces to repose. So Mr. Taylor let slide things terrestrial, while he smoked a mild cigar.

That is much the way I feel when I go out of doors at night and try to squint at the new comet and locate it somewhere up in the handle of the big dipper, in the few days before the moon spoli the fun.

Even spectacles and field glasses do not help very much, my eyes being in the fluid and indeterminate condition which the oculist tells me is bound to happen at a certain age.

I try to persuade myself that I can see a spot of fuzzy light, but like as not it is still Canopus.

Parties for Boston Debs Cost Less Than in N. Y.

That leaves me with two alternatives, two comments on equally unimportant bits of information. The first is the notion of the gentleman from New York that debutante parties, properly handled, ought to cost thousands of dollars—anywhere, except in Boston.

Here it doesn't cost so much. Here we feed the debutantes and their boy friends and girl friends on applesauce, gingerbread and milk.

I wish I might broadcast daughters' comments on that piece of news. They were free—and elegant.

The second affects me more nearly than anything as I have said, taking place in Spain or China. It is the suggestion that modern society, by feeding "runts" by systematic injections of growth hormones which are normally secreted in the pituitary gland located at the base of the brain, may turn them into geniuses.

Plans to Muddle Along Minus Mark of Genius

That affects me deeply. The gentlemanly ushers in men's clothing emporiums (or corporations) usually refer to me as a "short stout," but one youthful salesman who had not quite learned his job once informed me in a burst of candor that in terms of the clothing trade I was really a "stubb."

It would be nice to be seven feet tall and a genius. As it is I shall probably have to muddle along at a lower altitude content with being only partially a genius. If only one didn't have such difficulties looking at paradise.

My freshmen at M. I. T. are very good at using up a whole theme explaining that they have no subject to write about. I tell them such a subterfuge betokens mental laziness, inertia, liver complaint and general cussedness.

WOMAN Wins Review AWARD

"EXCLUSIVE" FILM LAUDED

By MRS. R. W. FITTS
"Exclusive" is a well chosen title for the moving picture in the Metropolitan, but you can't apply that word to the audience, for this picture has something to satisfy all moviegoers. Any one of them must be able to pick up at least one thrill from the swiftly changing scenes of humor and sadness, comedy and tragedy.

Here he can witness the agony of the scene for those who are the backbone of the newspaper, and the family in a far corner of the city, a daughter, a son, and a mother, who are the backbone of the city.

MARY RAY SHINES
With a good story, and a strong cast, "Exclusive" is a picture worth seeing. It is a picture of the newspaper, and the family in a far corner of the city, a daughter, a son, and a mother, who are the backbone of the city.

And there is a lot of comedy in it. It is a picture of the newspaper, and the family in a far corner of the city, a daughter, a son, and a mother, who are the backbone of the city.

KOUSSEVITZKY AT STOCKBRIDGE MUSIC

Dr. Sergei Koussevitzky, leader of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, is shown in action at Stockbridge, where concerts in his world-famous group are featuring this year's Berkshire Music Festival.

Thrills Big CROWD

KOUSSEVITZKY AT HIS BEST

By RUTH MARSTERS

Stockbridge, Aug. 6.—An electrifying fortissimo broke the quiet of Tanglewood acres last evening as Dr. Sergei Koussevitzky launched the forces of his Boston Symphony Orchestra upon the performance of Beethoven's Leonore Overture No. 3 in the opening of the first of the four annual Berkshire Music Festivals.

The crowd of 1,500 people, which had gathered for the first of the four annual Berkshire Music Festivals, was electrified by the performance of the Leonore Overture No. 3. Cambridge Woman Burned

Miss Melinda Moore, 25, of 191 Main avenue, Cambridge, was burned in her home today when pulling down a curtain which caught fire as the result of a short circuit in an electric wiring system.

Have you ever seen the paper house at Pigeon Cove? We stopped by there yesterday and had a little chat with the owner and builder, Mr. Elms Stennan.

It is, as you have probably heard, a house whose walls and furnishings are made entirely of newspapers—and Mr. Stennan is, in his way, a kind of genius.

He's been making the furniture for the past 15 years, and he's still making it. It looks more like bamboo furniture, but the papers are glued together so tightly that, if it weren't for the print showing through, you'd think they were sticks of wood.

Stennan, with one eye on the future, has never sold a single piece of furniture, and he has no intention of doing so. He is a writer, a publisher, and a man of the world.

Mechanical Engineer Before Paper Career

Stennan was a mechanical engineer before he started making paper furniture. He had made a lot of money as an engineer, and he was a very successful man.

Right now he is using paper to build a house with Roosevelt's name on it, and he is a very successful man.

There was a time when I was a boy, and I was a very successful man.

Outboard Oddities In Annual Basin Buzz For Amerk-Sunad Prizes

THOSE TYPOGRAPHICAL TWINS, the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser, are promoting another educational uproar in the Charles River tomorrow and Sunday when 100 little bird-bath boats with egg-beater engines again butt Back Bay's cathedral calm and churn the day away in a form of motorized dementia.

It is risky business! Water ceases to be soft and yielding at 35 to 50 miles per hour and a spill feels like being bounced out of a barroom against a curbstone fireplug, with every little wave hitting you like the kick of a cow.

I have ridden these outboard oddities only once and then in a misguided moment on the placid waters of Tampa Bay, when an imphish owner shoehorned me into the monkey seat and spun the flywheel with a length of clothesline.

Well sir! For the better part of 20 minutes I leaped the ripples of that barracuda-infested water with mingled sensations of riding a rodeo calf in a blizzard of soapuds and of skidding down a slide chute in a washbasin. The brain-stupifying "aww-saww-saww" of the motor, the most penetrating noise known to the human ear, and the stench of the dynash gasoline, which costs 95c a gallon and acts in the tiny engines like a shot of horse hair in the veins of a gambling steed, makes one wonder why the outboard boys and girls do it.

They Call It Fun.

IT IS DANGEROUS, TOO. Once on Lake Skaneateles, near Syracuse, I watched a pretty miss named Loreta Turnbull go "accidental" flipper while going 50 MPH. She went cartwheel over the water as though shot from a gun and spent six weeks in the hospital, where they fitted a silver roof in her neck to put her new knee-cap and did some other plastic repairs. Yet she is following the regattas with the rest of the outboard platoon—amateurs and professionals who traipse after their water cruses like overal golfers chase tournament—each during the season in the Sun.

These range from grizzled oldsters like Bob Boles, Fred Jacoby, Harry Birdsell and Bob Flag to little Miss Mollie Tyson and her sister Elsie, girls who look as though they have just dropped their dolls and mean to hurry right back to the nursery.

A horse never would get a sentence for doing what the drivers of these flying spitfires do. The drivers needle their motorboats with a doped mixture of alcohol, gumstom, and nutmeg, which gives the boat a convulsion and causes them, at top speed, to kiss the tips of the waves with only their propellers in the water. The real palpitation comes when taking the turns. Because the drivers don't sit upright on their haystacks like Aunt Tine, tating a teacup. They lean gently adroove, coaxing the silver up on its hip and swallowing hard to keep their hearts down, lest the tiller give a capricious twist and there they go, scooping back from the river bottom.

So, if you enjoy riding a high-powered haywagon at express train speeds over rutted country roads, you will like outboard motor boating. Plug some surgical gauze in your ears and join the thousands who for the last two years have swarmed the Basin banners as guests of the American and Advertiser. (A-2)

Tilden Pulls Gaucherie

WITH HIS UNERRING FACILITY for getting a good thing done, Tilden has pulled another tactical act which is sure to render him unpopular with the tennis people. Instead of being stung by Don Budge's ex-ante comeback in his Wimbledon final against Von Cramm of Germany, Big Willie roared against his countryman, who wanted Von Cramm to win and as a returned Bostonian who sat near Tilden during the London match reports, the Yankee knuckled of his party tithed for a shot at the Tilden club.

Afterwards, instead of applauding Budge's victory, Tilden huffed off to Von Cramm's quarters to extend his sympathy. This is in keeping with the peculiar personality of the former master of the international courts. He has seldom conformed to custom, regarding himself as the heart, liver and lungs of tennis during the height of his career. It is some years since I asked Tilden whether he didn't think that tennis had been pretty good to him, to which he replied, "On the contrary, I think I've been very good to tennis."

Graveyard of Yachting Glory

THEY SAY IT IS THE GRAVEYARD OF YACHTING GLORY, the Charles River. It is crowded with the wrecks of the past. A few more years and it will be a graveyard of the future. A few more years and it will be a graveyard of the future.

There, minus their tall masts and standing high and dry on the banks, the wrecks of the past are scattered about. The wrecks of the past are scattered about. The wrecks of the past are scattered about.

SOPWITH Silent on PLANS

LAUDS DESIGN OF RANGER

Newport, R. I., Aug. 6 (U.S.)—The man a Octave Murdoch Sopwith, twice hailed challenger for the America's Cup, today said he hasn't thought about another challenger.

Right now he's looking forward to the New York Yacht Club cruise when, as he said, "four good boats will be chasing Ranger."

The two Endeavour and Ranger and Tarkie will compete with the successful defender sailing August 10.

The defender skipper had no plans to race and said his ship was just remarking.

"Ranger was just too fast. That's all."

"We couldn't do anything about that fast start. (It cost Sopwith one minute and 15 seconds.) We were only three feet from the marker, and a slight twist and we'd have hit it."

The attributed defeat mainly to the shape of Ranger's hull, which he said opened up a new era in yacht design.

He now awaits in place of the defender and of the last race which proved in long before any was lost.

Red Flame of Red Sox

These high flying Red Sox, who have now stretched their winning streak to nine games and have moved up to second place, now much of their rise to young 'Red' Desautels, Holy Cross alumnus, given the tough assignment of replacing Rick Terrell behind the bat.

"Red" has more than filled the bill.

BEES BUZZ 5 Games in 3 Days With Cubs

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Boston's battling Bees open their longest and possibly toughest road series of the season today, a five-game affair with the league-leading Chicago Cubs.

The Sox, who have won 10 of their last 11 games, will face the Cubs, who have won 10 of their last 11 games, in a series that is expected to be one of the most exciting of the season.

Plan to Whale Chisox, Gain On Yanks

By JOE CASHMAN
It's our Red Sox who are the defenders and Chicago's White Sox who are the pretenders as the rival hose open their four-game struggle for second place up at the Fenix this afternoon.

The inspired Croninmen saw to it that by taking the Thursday tilt, to make a clean sweep of the four-game series with the Indians and run their victory string to nine straight, while the Pale Hose, while being knocked off for the fourth time in a row by the superior human Yankees.

That left the standings reading:
New York 64, 20, 100
Boston 55, 27, 200
Chicago 55, 27, 200
Cleveland 55, 27, 200

It may be recalled that the last time the Sox and Cubs opened an engagement, the situation was identical, as far as a five-game series was concerned. The Fenway flock held the run-up berth by a slender percentage margin.

THINK YOU'LL LAST TIME
Then the White Sox proceeded to run out their record for four games, to make a clean sweep of the four-game series with the Indians and run their victory string to nine straight, while the Pale Hose, while being knocked off for the fourth time in a row by the superior human Yankees.

form, the huge prize lists for both amateur and professional, and the splendid conditions attending the conduct of the races make this Boston Hearst regatta the most important in the world of outboard motors.

There won't be one of the big fellows missing. The Boston race has been talked about by the drivers of the country for months past. They've all been anticipating this regatta.

Never have such wonderful fields been lined up. I can truthfully say that I'm better, getting more speed out of my varied engines than ever before.

There's any one of 10 or more amateurs that might beat me. And the same is true in the professional divisions.

When the contest is over, a champion will be crowned. I am confident that I will be the victor.

As a spectator, I am sure to see some of the best racing in the world.

There's a lot of money in it. The prize money is $50,000.

Clint Ferguson tries his "flying shingle" over the Charles River basin and is more than satisfied with it. The Mahan boy has high hopes of setting up a new record tomorrow and Sunday. Seabiscuit Picked By Wilson to Win $50,000 'Cap

Mrs. C. S. Howard's Seabiscuit, winner of a straight since he lost a nose decision in the camera finish that decided the Santa Anita Handicap in favor of Rosemont, is my choice to win the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs tomorrow.

Seabiscuit, a three-year-old bay gelding, was bred by Mrs. C. S. Howard and trained by Tom Smith. He won the Santa Anita Handicap on March 4, 1935, and the Kentucky Derby on May 3, 1935. He is the only horse to win both the Santa Anita Handicap and the Kentucky Derby.

FAIR Pupil Asks WHY? 'BUMP' NEVER HEARD OF A. M.

New York, Aug. 6 (INS) — Miss Lucy Smoot, a school teacher for 35 years and principal of Norton elementary school in Kansas City, spoofed teacher about third base in today's class of the Columbia University Teachers' College elective course in spectator sports.

Teacher was Red Rolfe, third baseman of the New York Yankees, who began his lecture with the cautious remark that "third base is the least important job in baseball."

Miss Smoot said she had just read a story about a girl who had been asked to go to a party and had said "bump" instead of "yes."

"Why, Mr. Rolfe," was what she said.

"Oh, yes," Red said, "about a trifling shapeliness. It's a fact and I'm not just saying it to be modest. Third basemen are made, not born. They just get pushed into their job."

"Why, do you know I only know two third basemen now playing who came into the game as a result of a bump?"

"No," Miss Smoot said, "I didn't know that."

"First get you fifty," offered Red.

"No, no," said Miss Smoot, "I don't want to go to a party and say 'bump' instead of 'yes'."

"Well, you know," said Red, "I don't want to go to a party and say 'bump' instead of 'yes' either."

"Well, you know," said Red, "I don't want to go to a party and say 'bump' instead of 'yes' either."

Jockey Bejshak Suspended

By the Associated Press

The two-year-old filly Impation was being cleared up considerably as the result of the defeat of the Whistler stable horse, Lassie, and Warren Wright's Three in the Saddle at Saratoga.

Merly Lassie entered the first and a half-furlong dash with a record of four straight victories as a mare, and was expected to win. She was ridden by Jockey Bejshak.

The winner turned up in an 8-1 shot, and Bejshak was suspended for three days.

Bejshak, a former champion jockey, was suspended for three days for riding Lassie in the race.

JUNIOR BIRDMEN OF AMERICA

A Nation of Organization Devoted To American Youth in Aviation

By L. F. ROSS
Boston Wing Commander

Tomorrow the hopes of all Junior Birdmen of New England will rise above the Atlanta, Ga., airport pinned on the model planes of Maurice Saidel.

The Birdmen look to him to bring to Boston for the first time a national outdoor model plane championship title for which he will battle against 16 other wing winners. The results of the national contest will be printed in the news section of Sunday's Boston Advertiser.

JUNIOR BIRDMEN OF AMERICA

(Membership open to all boys and girls 10 to 21)

I wish to join the Junior Birdmen of America. I enclose a dime (well wrapped) for my gold wing and other membership materials.

Maurice Saidel, of Roxbury, holds the strip of tickets the Boston Evening American provided for his round trip to Atlanta, Ga., for the national outdoor model plane flying contest to be held tomorrow. He is pointing to the model which he took with him, hoping they will win the national title, the William Randolph Hearst trophy and $250.

"I'll Sell It If I Have to Make a Million Calls!"

And the star of the show bangs his fist on the manager's desk. But the manager is not a man to be easily moved.

"You ought to sell anything by making a million calls. Somebody would be sure to buy it."

Every evening 258,637 fans as read the Boston American. On Friday the audience increases to 345,876, which means that in 7 days your ad appearing in the American Advertiser would make 2,433,311 contacts.
